Lifetime Giving

Several members have indicated that, while they do not want to commit to a legacy arrangement at this time, they would prefer to make a donation now. In response we have created a life-time giving opportunity which, for UK tax-payers, has additional benefit to the receiving organisation.

Of course there is no commitment at any time and there is no link between membership of the Armillary Club and making a contribution.

Donors through the life-time giving arrangements are invited to consider:

- Contributing to the general work of The Nautical Institute
- Opportunity 1: Furthering a culture of diversity and opportunity

- Opportunity 2: Enhancing and developing skills for the future
- Opportunity 3: Infrastructure
Donations can be acknowledged or confidential.

Thank you to everyone who has considered supporting us. I am pleased to personally acknowledge the donations made by:

Commodore Ian Gibb FNI, £1,000 towards starting up the Armillary Club; Kaushik Roy, AFNI, CMMar, £1001 towards furthering a culture of diversity and opportunity; Captain Ovidiu-Traian Lucuta and an anonymous donation from a FNI of £1,000 towards enhancing and developing skills for the future.
